

Golf as a lifestyle

More than 530,000 Swedes are members of a golf club, and they generally spend more money on cars, housing, travel, and clothing than the average Swede. Would you like to communicate with this commercially interesting target audience? If so, Svensk Golf is the obvious choice. Through the magazine, website, and our social media channels, we reach most of the golf enthusiasts in Sweden. Svensk Golf Print is distributed to approx. 1,000 rooms at the largest golf hotels in Sweden.

Our readers and visitors play a lot of golf, often several rounds a week during the high season. They are engaged and passionate, willing to invest in their golf, equipment, training, and travel destinations.

Our ambition is to provide the best golf-related content. Based on what our readers want, we create dynamic journalism across all our channels. Our digital visitors are loyal and visit the website and social media several times a week. 74% of our subscribers read each edition more than once.*

A guiding principle in our editorial direction is passion – a passion that we share with our audience – for golf, for the lifestyle, and for the game. Our visitors always find interesting reading in the magazine or on the website – our popular Golf School, equipment reviews, course visits, feature stories, and interviews.
